

Only Complete Collection of Southern War Flags FREE TO VETERANS

After many months of research the State Mutual Life Insurance Company of Georgia has assembled the Southern States War Flags, and the collection appears in a beautiful wreath on the face of a calendar pad lithographed in seven colors. This calendar is valuable for historic reasons and suitable for framing. It will grow richer in reminiscent value as years wear on, and will be prized highly in future years in any collection of bellum-day relics. It is free to veterans and sons and daughters of veterans. GREEN AND GAYNOR LOST OUT ON APPEAL

Federal Court at New Orleans Affirms Verdict of Five-Year Term.

TO PAY HALF MILLION FINE

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—The sentence of the Savannah Court in the Green and Gaynor case, involving over half a million dollars fraud in government contract work in the Savannah harbor, was affirmed in an opinion handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today. The sentence is four years' imprisonment each and a fine aggregating $575,000. Judges Shelby and McCormick handed down the opinion, which was on an appeal, and Judge Pardee dissented.

On the ground that they were fugitives from justice the court dismisses the defendants' plea for benefit of the statute of limitations. Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor, the defendants, appealed on 133 assignments of error. The most interesting of these was the claim that their extradition from Canada, a case which went to the Privy Council of England before being finally tried, was illegal. They asserted they were extradited upon one offense and tried on another. Upon this point the court says:

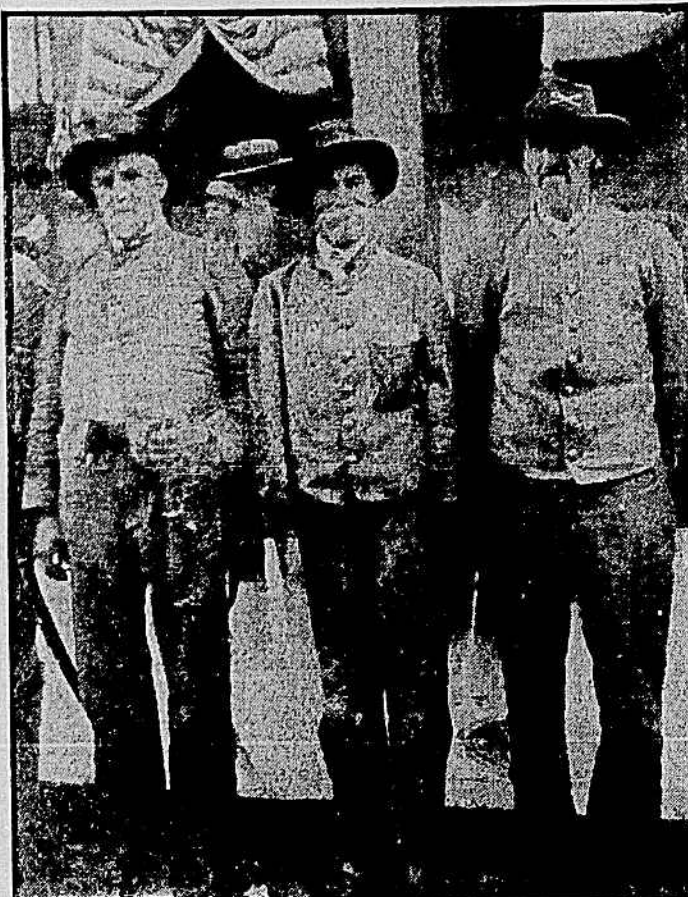

"It is not usual nor would it be expedient or practicable for a warrant of extradition to describe the crime with all the fullness that would be required in an indictment."

"While extradition and indictment must be for the same criminal acts, it does not follow that the crime must have the same name in both countries."

Question of Extradition.
The court held that the defendants were extradited for an offense for which they had been twice indicted. Replying to the contention that their offense was not extraditable under the treaty, the court holds, first, that it was extraditable, and then argues that even if the treaty did not on its face allow extradition for their offense, nevertheless the parties to this treaty could have taken action to make this instrument cover the offense, and that such action would have applied to a previously committed offense. Green and Gaynor can now either apply for a rehearing or go to the Supreme Court on a writ of certiorari.

Will Appeal to High Court.
SAVANNAH, GA., June 3.—While the attorneys for Greene and Gaynor will not discuss their future action in the case, pending the receipt of the full

STRIKING FIGURES IN PARADE

One of the most pathetic figures in the great parade of yesterday was an old soldier, whose two empty sleeves gave mute testimony to his devotion to the South.

decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals, it is expected that a fight in behalf of their clients will be carried to the United States Supreme Court. Every possible appeal will be resorted to in behalf of the convicted men.

Injuries Prove Fatal.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BRISTOL, TENN., June 3.—Fred V. Catwright, the Bristol traveling man, who had a leg and an arm mangled by falling under a train as he was endeavoring to board it at Bristol, Va., last Thursday, died tonight following the amputation of his mangled limbs. He carried $10,000 accident insurance.

Shoe Value

Shoe value means quality, workmanship, durability, fit, shape, design and general satisfaction.

A shoe falling short in any one of these qualifications is expensive at any price, for it does not possess actual everyday wearing value.

Those who consider real economy—real value—buy

The objective point of every Stetson Shoe, from the selection of the materials to the final inspection, is shoe value.

LYNCHBURG OFFICE GAINING RAPIDLY

Receipts for May, Compared With Same Month Last Year, Show Increase.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, VA., June 3.—The receipts of the Lynchburg post-office during the month just past, when compared with May, 1906, showed a gain of 17.45 per cent, thus keeping up the steady increase that has marked the receipts of the office for every month this year. The comparative figures are:

May, 1907 $10,270.77

May, 1906 $8,744.86

Increase $1,525.91

If the remaining months of the year continue to make the good showing the first five months have made, there is no reason to doubt, but the increase this year over last will be upwards of $20,000, or about 20 per cent.

Still Operating Hurt.
Ed Roland, a cotton mill worker, was seriously injured yesterday morning about 11 o'clock in the vicinity of the cotton mill, when he attempted to board a moving freight train on the Southern Railway. He was thrown off and received injuries about his head that may prove fatal. He was carried to the home of Mr. John Grubbs, No. 18 Cotton Hill where he was given medical attention.

GOLD PLATE FROM MOTHER'S HOME

President Receives Gift as Memento of Georgia Day at the Exposition.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—President Roosevelt was today presented with a handsomely engraved plate of solid gold, taken from a mine near the home of the President's mother, in Georgia. The plate, which is valued at over $100, is six by ten inches in size, and bears a reproduction of Bulloch Hall, the Bulloch coat of arms, the Georgia coat of arms, and the following inscription:

"Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States. Georgia Day, Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition, June 10, 1907. W. N. Mitchell, president Georgia Commission. Joseph M. Terrell, Governor of Georgia."

The box in which the plate is incased is made of Georgia wood, lined with velvet and covered with white satin, the lid being handsomely trimmed with gold, and bearing the United States coat of arms. The plate is intended as a souvenir of Georgia Day at the Jamestown Exposition, and was presented by W. N. Mitchell, president of the Georgia Commission. The President said he appreciated it very much, and it had touched him more than anything he had received during his administration.

DEATH CLAIMS THOMAS H. RUGER

General in Federal Army and Military Governor of Georgia.

STAMFORD, CONN., June 3.—General Thomas H. Ruger, U. S. A., retired, died at his home here today. He had a long and brilliant service in the army. He was in the campaign of the Rappahannock and commanded a division at Gettysburg. He was in command of New York City at the time of the draft riots. He was military governor of Georgia in 1865, during the reconstruction period. From 1871 to 1876 he was superintendent at West Point Academy, and then served two years as commander of the Department of the South.

VETERANS SEE ROOSEVELT.

Party from Reunion Call at White House and Hear Stories.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—A number of Confederate veterans who attended the reunion at Richmond last week were in Washington today sight-seeing. Several parties called at the White House and were introduced to the President. General Stephen D. Lee was placed in charge of the veterans, who met the President and were escorted to the White House. The President was very cordial and listened to the veterans' stories. He was particularly interested in the story of General Lee's surrender at Appomattox. The veterans were all decorated by the President. They were all decorated.

DINNER AT CAMP GORDON

MURDERED TWO, THEN HIMSELF

Triple Crime in a Pittsburgh Boarding-House Over a Woman.

PITTSBURG, PA., June 3.—Two men are lying in a hospital in a critical condition from bullet wounds, and a third, who fired the shots, is dead, having committed suicide after the shooting.

The dead, Patrick Beardon, twenty-eight years of age, shot himself in the head. Injured, Thomas Morton, shot through the right eye, M. M. Moorehead, shot in the back of the head.

The attempted double murder and suicide occurred late this afternoon at a boarding house on Larimer Avenue. Beardon called on the two injured men for the purpose of inquiring about a woman named Mrs. Anna Vorth, Beardon had been drinking. Both Morton and Moorehead denied knowing the whereabouts of the woman, and Moorehead left Morton and Beardon in the former's room. While alone with Morton, Beardon suddenly drew a revolver, and, alleging Morton knew where the woman was, fired at him, the bullet entering Morton's eye. Leaving the room Beardon met Moorehead, who was coming back to investigate the shooting. Beardon shot him three times. Then with the last shot in the revolver, Beardon killed himself.

WAR TELEGRAPHERS.
Manipulators of the Key Who Did Service for the South.
In the vast throng that came up to the reunion from Texas are two of the oldest expert telegraphers now living, a most interesting account of whose valuable services in the defense of Vicksburg in 1862-63 have been incorporated in the war history of Mississippi by General Stephen D. Lee. These veterans are Colonels Leo S. Daniel and Philip H. Fall, both of General S. D. Lee's staff. The venerable Confederates now reside at Houston, Texas. The following is a brief synopsis of the account by General Lee:

In October, 1862, Daniel was ordered to the picket outpost at Point Lookout, La., on the Mississippi River, seventy-five miles above Vicksburg; the end of a little private telegraph line, with which orders to watch the river day and night and to report to the commander at Vicksburg the movement of all boats passing, Fall was ordered to De Soto, opposite Vicksburg, to receive the dispatches. For nearly three months of almost perfect quiet, but their vigilance was rewarded by the approach of the great flotilla of some sixty-odd steamboats, with about 30,000 troops, conveyed by seven gunboats, stealthily approaching, to surprise the small garrison, which was about six thousand men. The passing of this formidable army and navy was promptly wired by Daniel to Fall, the latter at great personal risk of crossing the Mississippi in a skiff at midnight, turning his red light might be extinguished and his craft be annihilated by the batteries on the bluff. He promptly delivered the dispatches to General M. L. Smith in the ballroom, where a great military and civil ball was in progress. General Smith immediately announced the astounding news, and ordered officers and soldiers to their posts, so that the little garrison was prepared. General Stephen D. Lee was placed in charge of the defenders, who met the enemy and badly defeated them, killing and wounding nearly as many men as he had defeating, and with comparatively small loss. It is quite certain that had not the approach of the flotilla been promptly reported, the garrison would have been surprised and Vicksburg captured at most without a struggle. Plummer's "History of the Civil War" from the Northern side gives Daniel and Fall the credit of saving Vicksburg at that time, which prolonged the siege for six months.

THREE PERISHED IN A TENEMENT FIRE

Janitor, His Wife and Child Victims of an Early Morning Blaze.

NEWARK, N. J., June 3.—Three lives were lost and thousands of dollars of damage was done in a fire which started shortly before 2 o'clock this morning in Newark Turnverein Hall, No. 188 Williams Street. The known dead are Joseph Hoenke, janitor of the Turnverein Hall; Mrs. Joseph Hoenke, wife of the janitor, and a child of the janitor.

Eight families occupied the floors above the hall, and the policemen were kept busy rescuing men, women and children.

Soon after the alarm was spread the janitor and his wife were seen frantically running about on the roof of an extension searching for some means to reach the ground. They must have entered the building again, for shortly afterwards Hoenke was seen through the smoke in the window of his apartment, as though meditating a jump to the street. The spectators shouted to him to wait for the arrival of the firemen. He disappeared in the smoke, and neither he nor his wife or child were seen afterward.

MOBLEY GOES TO JAIL.

Ill-fated Preacher Put Under Bond for Using Indecent Language on the Street.

Rev. W. E. Mobley, the itinerant preacher of the "Gospel Army," who was arrested Sunday afternoon for creating disorder on Broad Street and using indecent language during his discourse, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, and was put under $100 bond to keep the peace for six months. No one could be found to go his security, and he was remanded to jail, where he spent the night. Mrs. Mobley stated last night that Attorney Harry Smith would handle her husband's case, and that the lawyer would make an effort today to have her husband bailed.

Mobley's defense in court yesterday morning was that he was quoting from the Bible, and that he had uttered nothing worse than what is contained in the Scriptures. He was defended by Attorney Gordon, of the firm of Smith, Moncreaf & Gordon.

Several witnesses testified as to the character of Mobley's language, and Justice Crutchfield felt constrained to put him under bond.

GRAIN MEN TO MEET IN CHICAGO JULY 17TH.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 3.—The grain committee of the New Orleans Board of Trade announced to-night that it issued a call for a convention of grain men from American export ports to meet in Chicago July 17th. The object is to meet complaints from Europe about poor quality of some American grain shipments by enforcing better grain inspection rules at export cities. The New Orleans board has been in correspondence with other exchanges and announces that the plan is favored by New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Newport News, Galveston and Port Arthur.
